U.S. Marines Push Into DM Zone; Kill 162 Reds

SAIGON (AP)—Striking at North Vietnamese troops menacing the northern part of South Vietnam, 5,500 U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have invaded the southern half of the demilitarized zone. They reported killing 162 of the enemy in the first 24 hours of fighting.

Pacification

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American officials are counting on new U.S. military direction to get the important pacification program moving in Vietnam and to prod the South Vietnamese into doing more.

President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara discussed Thursday the recent shift of the U.S. part of the pacification effort from civilian to military control.

"We believe that in that way we will get more efficient work in pacification from the South Vietnamese themselves," said Johnson.

McNamara said pacification progress "has been very slow indeed."

Ike Fit; Leaves Hospital Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower checked out of Walter Reed Army Hospital today and said he felt fine.

He said he felt as though he could make a worldwide trip, including a visit to Vietnam, if his doctors okayed it later.

President Johnson once suggested that Eisenhower undertake a Far East tour.

The 76-year-old general, smiling frequently, said that he had discussed the Vietnam situation with Gen. William C. Westmoreland and that Westmoreland had told him that "militarily things are looking better but he thinks he needs a bit more strength"—specifically more tactical reserves.

and seven wounded. The allied penetration of the demilitarized zone took the ground war to the doorstep of North Vietnam for the first time. It was certain to bring charges from abroad that the United States was again escalating the war.

One high U.S. official in Saigon pointed out that "the North Vietnamese have been in the demilitarized zone for a long, long time."

"Why it should be considered as sanctuary for one side only, I don't understand," he said.

The invasion by helicopter, amphibious landing craft and on foot was preceded by a heavy bombardment of both the southern and northern halves of the zone by Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers and Navy ships.

Lose 2 Planes

One Navy Skyhawk was shot down just north of the zone Thursday, and the Navy also announced the loss of a Crusader jet over North Vietnam Wednesday, due to unknown causes. Both pilots are missing.

A total of 544 U.S. combat planes now have been reported lost over North Vietnam.

The invasion force made three main thrusts into the demilitarized zone. AP Correspondent John Lengel reported from the forward Marine headquarters at Dong Ha that the objective appeared to be to trap elements of two North Vietnamese regiments—possibly 5,000 troops—between the allied troops inside the zone and some 5,000 Leathcrnecks sweeping northward from Con Thien, the Marine outpost 2,000 yards south of the zone.

Helicopters landed one battalion of Marines on the south bank of the Ben Hai River, where it runs into the South China Sea at the eastern end of the zone. Landing craft brought support units ashore.

Move To Bridge

Other helicopters brought a second Leatherneck battalion to a landing zone near the southern bank of the river north of Con Thien, which is 13 miles inland.

Six battalions of South Vietnamese troops moved overland through the three-mile-wide southern half of the zone to the international bridge across the Ben Hai and began fanning out to the east and west.

Military sources said it was not planned to cross into North Vietnam's half of the zone. Lengel reported the fighting tapered off today, but the Leatherneck battalion that landed north of Con Thien found huge stocks of North Vietnamese munitions and other supplies.

State Lands For Park Approved

LANSING (AP)—A technical measure empowering the state administrative board to turn over to the federal government the state lands for the Upper Peninsula's new Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore has won House approval.

LBJ Sees More Backing Of War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson sees growing support for his determination to keep U.S. forces in Vietnam until an honorable settlement is reached.

The President told a hastily called news conference Thursday "there is hardly anyone who feels that there ought to be unilateral withdrawal. I think that fewer feel that way today than yesterday—or the period behind us."

Johnson also said there has been no change in U.S. objectives in Vietnam, conceded the war "tests the patience and understanding of each of us" and expressed hope "all of my countrymen and our friends in the world will recognize what we are doing and why we are doing it."

The President also used the occasion to defend the administration's record so far in pushing "Great Society" legislation through this year's Congress, to deny reports the war will boost his budget $5 billion and to voice cautious optimism about nuclear nonproliferation talks underway.

Car Prices To Rise

DETROIT (AP)—Car buyers had the official word today that the Fords in their future are going to carry a higher price tag.

Henry Ford II told stockholders at Ford's annual meeting Thursday that a substantial increase was in the offing in 1968 Fords. He blamed extra costs involved in meeting government safety standards and air pollution regulations.

Other auto firms, including General Motors whose stockholders meet today, are expected to follow.

He pointed out that the contemplated increase—most observers estimated it at around $100 to $150—did not take into account higher prices Ford might be paying for materials and labor by next fall.

Ford expressed concern about the higher price on next year's models, saying, "There is some point beyond which a customer will not go insofar as the price of his new car is concerned."

Ford fielded questions at the stockholders' session and from newsmen about the auto labor talks which open in July.

"I think the expectations of a great many members of the United Auto Workers is greater than they have a right to expect," he said.

make provisions to keep up with that gap.

"With the cost of living clause built into the auto contracts, the UAW members have gotten payments as the cost of living went up so they do not have to worry about catch-up items. The things we will be talking about will be new items, not catching up with the past."

Asked by newsmen if Ford was making long range preparations for a possible strike by the UAW, Ford replied, "Absolutely not. We are not stockpiling anything if that is what you mean. About the only advance preparations we would make for a strike would be a shutdown of the blast furnaces in our foundries and steel plants and you know from past experience that this would not be done until the very last hour."

Ford told stockholders that he expected that 1967 earnings, which dipped in the first quarter, reflecting car sales running behind the 1966 pace, would trail 1967 figures for the rest of the year.

UN Forces Quit Israel Border

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The 3,400-man U.N. Middle East force today was reported ordered to withdraw from the Israeli-Egyptian frontier as Egyptian troops continued to mass along the border.

With Egyptian infantry, armored columns and field artillery maneuvering in the Sinai Desert along Israel's southwest frontier, Maj. Gen. Abdel Mohsen Mortagi, commander of the "eastern front," declared his troops were "ready for a sacred march into Israel."

Mortagi indicated, however, that Egypt would fight only if Israel attacked Syria or some other Arab state.

There was no immediate word of what counter measures the Israelis were taking, but the Israeli army announced Thursday that it had taken "suitable steps" to meet the Egyptian threat.

Invasion tension, triggered by a series of border incidents between Israel and Syria, has brought Egypt, Syria and Iraq to a state of military readiness greater than at any time since the Suez war in 1956. The Syrians claimed the Israelis were preparing to attack Syria, a charge Israel denied.

Reports from Cairo said Egyptian forces have taken up defensive positions along the Egyptian-Israeli demarcation line which the U.N. Emergency Force—UNEF—had been patrolling for 11 years.

Delegates at U.N. headquarters in New York said Secretary-General U Thant told them Thursday night he had given the order to pull back the peace force. They said Thant told them he had no other choice since Egypt had demanded removal of UNEF from its soil.

An Israeli source in Tel Aviv said Egypt has moved a "huge force" into the Sinai Peninsula.

He said his government was in constant contact with the big powers over the situation.

Syrian Foreign Minister Ibrahim Makhsos said in Damascus that Egypt and Syria have been turned into an arsenal. If Israel attacks, he said, "We shall turn Arab land into a graveyard of Israelis."

Baghdad Radio warned that Iraq's air force and army units were ready to move at once in support of Syria against any Israeli attack. It said all army leaves had been canceled.

Thant's decision to accede to Egyptian demand for withdrawal of UNEF brought quick reaction abroad.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown said the Egyptian demand made a mockery of U.N. peacekeeping efforts.

Brown postponed a visit to Moscow, scheduled to start today, because of the Middle East crisis.

Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who won the Nobel Peace Prize for his part in organizing the Middle East force in 1956, said he was disappointed that Thant did not refer the action to the U.N. General Assembly which created the force.

In a last-ditch effort to keep the force alive, Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin proposed to the U.N. and Israel that the peacekeeping troops be shifted to the Israeli side of the frontier.

Romney's Hail

"From the Upper Peninsula to the south, and from the Thumb westward, we can proudly trumpet to the world during Michigan Week and thereafter that our people everywhere continue to make their state a world leader by contributions to the betterment of mankind," Romney proclaims.

Michigan Week actually is the climax of a year-round promotion which Dr. Harden says is directly and indirectly important to the state's continued progress.

Romney and Dr. Harden will open the festivities Saturday at Sturgis with dedication of a new city hall and library, the Miss Sturgis pageant, a luncheon and a parade.

The Michigan Week theme for the third straight year is: "Michigan—Dynamic in World Progress."

Gov. George Romney launches Michigan Week by hailing the state's role in the world's economy and pointing out that only 10 nations have gross national products greater than Michigan's.

The celebration is billed as the only one held by any state. The spectrum of Michigan life will be in focus—Religion, government, history, business, education, agriculture, tourism and youth are among the subjects.

It will all take place with a burst of oratory, music, marching, community gatherings and general activity.

Parades, Banquets

Throughout the week there will be parades, banquets, meetings, concerts, displays, open houses and countless other events.

The proclamations, pronouncements, queens, products-of-the-year, boasts and predictions for the future are endless.

The idea is to involve in some way all of Michigan's eight million residents.

Churches, schools, stores, governmental buildings, factories and even the highways will be some of the scenes of Michigan Week events.

Travelers can get free drinks of apple juice at highway information centers, churchgoers may hear messages of thanks for Michigan's blessings and students may get an extra lesson about the state during the week.

Tourists will get the red carpet at border spots, youth will be applauded, government officials will travel and meet the public, busmen and farmers will boast of their products, shoppers will see store window displays and people almost everywhere in the state

Class List Lost

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 25th reunion of the Fairfax High School Class of 1942 is all set, except for one thing.

The list of the class members is missing. The Alumni Association is frantically trying to find out who the class members were.

Three of the teachers stayed away Thursday, adding that they would continue the strike until they obtain a contract from the Gibraltar School Board when the federation charges had refused to bargain in good faith.

Students were sent home about noon Thursday when supervisory personnel were unable to handle classes.

Superintendent Howard Parr said the decision to dismiss classes partially was based on unruly students who romped through corridors when they found no teachers in classrooms.

The strike came with the district still 15 days short of the 180 days required for state aid.

'Fiscal Reform Is On The Way' Says Governor

LANSING (AP)—A lightening-fast vote followed a thunder of debate as the Senate passed a personal and corporate state income tax package 22-16 Thursday and sent it to the House.

The key leaders in the Senate predicted passage in the lower chamber, saying it is always easier to pass a bill through a second chamber when it has already passed one.

Six Democrats joined 16 Republicans in voting for the 2 1/2 per cent personal income tax and 5 1/2 per cent corporate levy—a tax package that is the key issue of the 1967 Legislature.

"Fiscal reform, long sought and long debated, is on the way to becoming a reality in 1967," said a jubilant Gov. George Romney.

The combination of the personal and corporate income taxes plus an intangibles tax hike would yield an estimated

Favored

LANSING (AP)—State Representatives today began studying the Senate-approved tax reform package which some key senators predicted will be passed in the House as well.

There was no indication, however, when debate in the lower chamber would begin.

$239 million in new revenue each year.

This was figured for the full 1967-68 fiscal year, however. Since the new taxes would not be effective until Oct. 1—if passed—the total might be slightly higher for the next full year.

Other parts of the Senate tax package would repeal the business activities tax, provide a $15-per-person refund of sales tax payments each year and allow $90 million in property tax relief along a sliding scale designed to benefit small property owners the most.

Romney said the tax program was not everything he would have liked in tax reform, but he added:

"It represents a far better method of meeting our responsibilities in the areas of public services and fiscal integrity than would an austerity budget with its cuts in education, mental health and other essential services."

"The responsibility for the program now has shifted to the House," he said.

Romney has threatened a 16 per cent slash in state services if new income is not provided.

The governor particularly put pressure on school interests to plead with their lawmakers for passage of the program.

His tactics included declaring he would veto any advances on state school aid and holding up start of some $10 million in new construction at four state colleges.

"This should take care of the governor's budget," said Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, Senate majority leader.

Romney asked for a $1.33 billion budget, and the tax package is expected to make income meet that figure.

Lockwood whipped the votes in line for Senate passage the second time around. At an earlier try May 30 in the Senate, only 14 votes were mustered for the tax reform package.

"If the decision is made to increase school aid," Lockwood added, "We could always get it by raising the cigarette tax."

School Pressure

Elementary school officials, in particular, have been pressuring the governor to increase the state school aid per pupil, unchanged in his current budget. They have threatened a massive march on Lansing.

"I think we could pass a cigarette tax through the Senate and raise about $50 million," said Lockwood.

Successful passage by the House now would improve Romney's national image.

These considerations him as prime material for the Republican presidential nomination would consider it a setback if he is unable to push through the tax package after his overwhelming election victory last fall.

Passed with the tax bill, on a 29-8 vote, was a resolution to allow the issue of a graduated in-

Teacher Strike Closes School

GIBRALTAR (AP)—Schools remained closed for the second day in this southwestern Wayne County community as striking teachers vowed not to return to classrooms until they obtain a collective bargaining contract.

The strike began Thursday, adding 2,700 students in Carlson Junior-Senior High School and six elementary schools when most of the district's 117 teachers refused to report for duty.

The walkout was the first against a public school system in Michigan this spring by a unit of the Michigan Federation of Teachers—AFL-CIO.

Dairymen Seek Third Cutting

Higher demand for sudan-grass type sorghums for green chop harvest has caused Michigan State University crop scientists to test many varieties.

Dairymen are looking for a green - chop sorghum that makes quick regrowth and can be cut as many as three times during the short pasture season of July, August and September.

Many new sorghum-sudan-grass hybrids on the market can be cut three times if weather conditions are satisfactory, but the Upper Peninsula may have to settle for two cuttings, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent. "This is a warm weather crop," said Heirman. "Last summer we had more warmth than usual, which was ideal for sudan-grass. Anyone interested in trying this practice should give it the full treatment."

"This means a good soil with a high nitrogen fertilizer—say 400 pounds per acre of a 17-17-17. This might look like a sizeable investment in fertilizer, but it will pay good returns."

Merchants Move Ahead On Plan For Parking Lot

Approval of the downtown parking lot project proposal by property owners of the area is hoped for "on or before June 1," the committee of property owners and business people reported today.

"We want to have approval on or before that date so the project can be started with as little delay as possible," said Herbert E. Flath, member of the committee that met Thursday.

The committee is acting on behalf of all property owners and merchants in the 1000, 1100 and 1200 blocks on Ludington Street and its members are Dan Boyle, Forrest Henslee, Walter Lewke, Pat McGee, Ralph O'Laughlin, Richard Pryal, Dalip Rehnquist and Flath.

The committee has met with the City Council at various times since the first of the year and on May 4 Flath reviewed steps that have been taken by the committee and the previous counter-proposals, while Henslee presented to the Council the Parking Lot Project Proposal which the Council viewed favorably.

The proposal, called No. 8, also received the approval of the Board of Directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

The committee was asked to investigate the mechanics of the proposal, explain it to the property owners and merchants in the affected area and obtain their signed approval. It is this action which is hoped to be completed on or before June 1.

The proposal calls for the acquisition of six parcels of land in the 1100 and 1200 blocks on 1st Ave. N. to be used for public parking. The parking capacity would be increased by about 89 cars.

The total cost of the project is estimated at $90,950 including the land, paving, lighting, grading and fill and the removal of the buildings.

Of the total cost it is proposed that the retailers and property owners will pay $55,000 and the City of Escanaba $35,950.

Lucky Numbers Draw Throngs

The "Lucky Number" promotion, a new event for the Escanaba Retail Division, was highly successful, members of the division reported at their May meeting at the Stone House Thursday noon. Chairman Ralph Zenker presided.

The promotion attracted hundreds of shoppers to Escanaba stores on Wednesday and members of the division decided that the promotion should be held again next year.

The June Moonlight Madness sale event was finalized. Roger Jenshak, who is co-chairman with Aaron Stein of the July Sidewalk Day event, outlined plans for this popular summer promotion, which attracts thousands of people to Escanaba's shopping area.

Plans are being made for additional middle-of-the-street displays this year to provide additional appeal for the shopping public.

Admissions

HOUGHTON — A prospective university student should spend a day on his chosen campus attending classes, eating in residence halls and visiting with students and faculty. This was one of the conclusions reached by members of a panel discussion on "Ethics in Admissions" at the regional meeting of the Association of College Admissions Counselors held at Michigan Tech Monday.

The panel included Samuel Lind from Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba.

Heritage Day Events Scheduled By Society

Unveiling of a marker at Pioneer Trail Park entrance and open house at the Delta County Historical Museum at Sand Point are major events scheduled for Tuesday, Heritage Day of Michigan Week.

Robert Schmeling, president of the Delta County Historical Society, who is chairman for the observance of Heritage Day, reported on plans for the day at a recent meeting of the Society.

The Escanaba River marker, whose purchase is financed with funds given to the Society by the Escanaba Daily Press, will be unveiled in a ceremony to be held at 1 p. m. Present will be Schmeling, Luther Barrett, chairman of the markers committee and committee members, Charles Sedquist, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, and Harold Vanierbergh, Escanaba River historian.

Museum Opening
The open house at the Delta County Historical Museum will be from 1 to 5 on Tuesday.

The public is invited to the Museum for the afternoon where a special exhibit relating to the history of commercial fishing has been arranged by Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder, Museum committee chairman. Coffee will be served.

John Nystrom has been retained as curator of the Museum for the season that will begin on Heritage Day and end after Labor Day. Thousands of visitors from many states register at the Museum each summer.

Museum hours will be: On Heritage Day from 1 to 5 p. m. and similar hours on weekends to mid-June, when the hours will be from 1 to 5 p. m. daily to July 1. On that date and continuing to Labor Day the hours will be from 1 to 9 p. m.

Marinette Plans Assistance To Holiday Inn

MARINETTE — Construction of a Holiday Inn motor hotel here moved a step closer to reality when city council approved an agreement to sell the former site of the Downtown Hotel and two adjacent lots to the firm of Blumenfeld & Rakita of Milwaukee for $1.

Nathan Rakita, president of the Milwaukee development firm, said it planned to erect a 100-unit building on the Dunlap Square site in the heart of Marinette's retailing district. Planned is a facility with two or three floors and space for 125 cars.

The motor inn is expected to occupy additional lots to be made available by the Marinette Downtown Development Corp. A summer 1968 opening is projected for the facility, which would have banqueting accommodations for 300 and an outdoor pool.

The Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club will meet at Marco's Monday evening. Participating in the program will be George McLaughlin, Bill Miller Jr., Tom McDermott, Dick Powell, Pastor Charles Beckingham, Ray Chase and Don Seymour.

Grebes build cup-shaped nests of waterweeds or decaying plants and anchor them in shallow water or among rushes.

Freshmen winning the academic award included: Darlene Gustafson, Escanaba, 3.59. Service awards went to Diane Ducheny of Gladstone and Jean St. Martin of Escanaba.

The marker at Pioneer Trail Park is located on the up-river side of Highway U.S. 2-41 and is officially registered and approved by the Michigan Historical Commission. The marker has a state-wide listing, will be located at a turn-out, and is being erected with the cooperation of the Delta County Road Commission.

One side of the marker tells the story of the Escanaba River legend:

"This is the home of the Chippewa Indians and the land of Hiawatha. Indian villages existed along the banks of the

Robert Saykly Heads Amvets

The Amvets elected Robert Saykly as their new Post Commander at a meeting held last evening in the Amvets Hall.

Saykly, a life and a charter member of Amvets Post 123, is the father of three children, and served in the Army from 1947 to 1950, spending 18 months in the South Pacific.

Other officers elected were Senior Vice Commander John Sorault Jr., Vice Commander James Little, Finance Officer George Embs, Adjutant, Don Koish; Provost Marshals Harry Viau and Herman Shay; and Judge Advocate Nick Chapekis. The new officers will take over sometime in August or September. In other business, the Amvets voted to have a mortgage burning ceremony on Sunday, June 4 and will invite both present and former members to join in the festivities.

River and the Indians were living here when the first white men came to this region about 1634.

"The Indians named the River for the flat rocks over which it runs, and in 'The Song of Hiawatha' Longfellow describes how Hiawatha 'crossed the rushing Escanaba' in pursuit of Mudjeckewis, whom he slew to avenge the death of his mother.

"The last Indian lands in the Upper Peninsula were ceded to the United States in 1842. This closed an era that began about 10,000 years ago."

The Lumbermen
The other side of the marker recounts the events of settlement and development of the river by the lumbermen.

"A short distance up-river from this marker, Alden Chandler built the first sawmill about 1835. Another mill was built in the early 1840's where this power dam now stands. Government surveyors were surprised to discover these mills and a small settlement here in 1844. These mills were all water-powered.

"The region was at first famous for its vast white pine forests. Lumber sawed here helped build Chicago and rebuild that city after the great fire of 1872.

"Hardwood flooring in large quantity was also produced here. At the turn of the century the I. Stephenson Co., with mills at the river mouth, was the largest producer of lumber in the world."

Lenore Romney Quits City Club On Race Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. George Romney has resigned from the Women's City Club of Detroit because of an alleged discrimination policy.

The club president, Mrs. Gaylord Todd, said, "We feel we have no policy which would force her to resign. We regret that she has seen fit to do so."

Mrs. Romney, in a letter of resignation sent Thursday, said, "I want to make it known that I am not protesting anything other than allowing members to bring their guests without qualification."

The Michigan Governor's wife said she had declared her determination to resign before receiving a telegram from Robert L. Green, associate professor of educational psychology at Michigan State.

Green quoted a newspaper story as saying the club bars Negro women from membership as well as from the second floor lounge and from eating in the dining room.

"This to me is unthinkable," Mrs. Romney said. "I have just learned of the policy. I wouldn't have joined if I knew."

She said she had been a member of the club for a little over a year and had seldom been there.

Mrs. Todd declined to comment further on the matter, except to say the club had no Negro members, but that Negro guests "have been entertained" at the club.

Receive U-M Degrees

ANN ARBOR—More than 4,700 degrees have been awarded by the University of Michigan this spring to students being graduated from the U-M's 17 schools and colleges.

Zakir Husain, the newly elected president of India, was the main speaker at the University's 125th commencement ceremony held on April 29.

Honorary degrees were awarded by the University to 23 distinguished educators from around the world.

The names of the graduates from the Delta - Schoolcraft area include:

Delta County — Cletus L. Courchaine, 738 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, Master of Science Engineering; Terril S. Jandis, 317 S. 23rd St., Escanaba, Bachelor of Arts with honors; Kathleen Murphy, 305 S. 5th St., Master of Social Work; Jean Poffenberger, 421 2nd Ave. S., Escanaba, Bachelor of Science Nursing; and Thomas Lee Butch, 1120 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, Doctor of Laws.

Courchaine is employed by the Michigan Department of Health and is in charge of the Department's Northern Peninsula Office here.

Jandis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jandis of 317 S. 23rd St. and is a graduate of Holy Name High School.

Kathleen Murphy is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Murphy, was a graduate of Holy Name High School, and of the College of St. Catherine.

Jean Poffenberger, a 1963 graduate of Holy Name High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Poffenberger.

Butch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butch of Gladstone is an honor graduate of Gladstone High School.

Others receiving degrees from the University of Michigan were:

Schoolcraft County—John K. Dixoner, Gulliver, Masters in Business Administration; Paul F. Berger, 426 Walnut St., Manistique, Bachelor of Arts.

New York City's Yeshiva University was founded in 1886 and was the first Jewish university in the United States.

'Fiscal Reform Is On The Way' Says Governor

come tax, now forbidden by the Constitution, to be put on the November 1968 election ballot.

Democrats have been pushing for the graduated tax. Passage of the resolution was a concession to garner votes for the tax package. The resolution will require a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Ceiling Rejected

Narrowly defeated, 24-12 was another resolution that would have put a 5 per cent ceiling on any personal income tax imposed by the state or its subdivisions. A two-thirds majority, or 26 votes, is required to pass a Senate resolution.

Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said he would move for reconsideration of the vote Monday.

"The people are fearful of unlimited, open-ended spending," Zollar said. "They should be given the right to clamp their hands down on the wrist that attempts to pull more money from their pockets."

"We are like the mountain climbers who climb a mountain just because it is there," Zaagman said. "We will spend money just because the money is there."

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, protested that the proposed 5 per cent ceiling "would hamstring the Legislature."

"If this were adopted we would have no freedom of action in the future," he said.

A separate bill to increase the intangibles tax on financial institutions from 50 cents to $1 per $1,000 was passed 24-14. A measure to permit the state to collect the income tax for cities went through 24-12.

Sponsors of the tax package fought off all amendments except one.

A clause was inserted by Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids specifying the Legislature does not intend to try to halt any try at a referendum challenge of the income tax bill.

Need 123,000 Signatures

If petitions are signed by 123,000 voters any bill except a measure with appropriations for state institutions or to meet deficiencies in state funds can be held up pending a vote at the next general election.

Verification of such a referendum thus could halt the tax bill—just as certification of petitions now before the Board of Canvassers could force Michigan to go on Daylight Saving Time.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, said earlier he would try to tack an appropriation measure on the income tax bill to thwart any referendum attempt.

But Brown would have to get enough votes to remove the Vander Laan amendment and add his.

There was roaring debate before the senators voted.

The pace was so slow in the morning, Lockwood asserted he might keep the Senate in session until midnight to pass the package. The key vote came shortly after 4 p.m.

Senate chamber doors were locked to make sure all 20 Republicans and 18 Democrats were in their seats for the vital vote.

Mrs. Abe Sebeck Of Manistique Dies Suddenly

MANISTIQUE — Mrs. Abe Sebeck, 68, of N. 5th St., died suddenly at 11:15 p. m. Thursday at her home.

Mrs. Sebeck was the former Mary Napon and was born in St. Jacques Aug. 28, 1898. Her marriage to Mr. Sebeck took place in Escanaba in 1918. They came to Manistique in 1929.

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Agnes Shields of Manistique; two sons, Roy, of Escanaba, and John, of Manistique; five daughters, Mrs. Elsie Blowers and Mrs. Fred (Clara) Nelson, both of Escanaba, Mrs. Chester (Irene) Cripps and Mrs. John (Agnes) Beaver, both of Arnet, Mich., and Mrs. Joseph (Sarah) Miron; one brother, Bernard, of Beaver Island, and 80 grandchildren.

Friends may call at Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home at 4 p. m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at St. Francis de Sales church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Liturgical prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Sunday.

H. N. Boosters Will Sponsor Carnival Here

The Holy Name Booster Club today announced it will again sponsor Skerbeck's shows from May 24 to 28 at the U. P. State Fairgrounds. Matinees will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 27 and 28, for children at special prices.

On Saturday and Sunday afternoons special registration by youngsters will give them the opportunity of winning either a girl's or boy's bicycle. The prizes are on display at the Coast to Coast Store of Escanaba and the Hupy's Insurance Agency of Gladstone.

Proceeds to the Booster Club will be used to develop Holy Name High School's Athletic Field.

Firemen Vote On Tentative Pact

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City firemen voted Monday and Tuesday on whether to accept a tentative contract that provides a 10 per cent pay hike and $10,000 in city-paid life insurance. The agreement was reached between the Grand Rapids Fire Fighters Association and the city. Policemen turned down a similar offer and are holding out for a 20 per cent pay raise.

Poverty Program Expenses Scored

PETOSKEY (AP) — The Petoskey Kiwanis Club and the Petoskey Jaycees have sent a letter to Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity complaining about the poverty program.

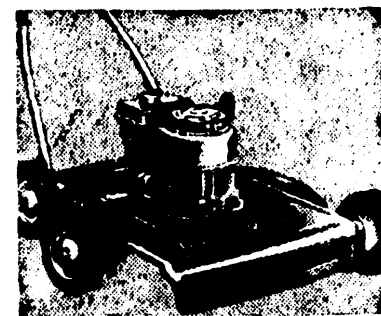

The groups charge that the program spends too much on salaries and staff expenses and not enough on helping the poor.

They proposed that poverty funds be given to private service organizations and administered by volunteers.

Iain's Mission

Iain Christie is addressing a series of meetings across the Upper Peninsula on the implementation of a program for tourism development created by Michigan State University for UP CAP, with financial aid from the Economic Development Administration.

A two year study of the Upper Peninsula's tourism resources and problems led to MSU's suggestion of a string of major recreational complexes across the U. P. They would make a visitor's tour of the Peninsula a triumphant tour through a land of beauty and history, with all kinds of entertainments tossed into his travel bundle.

It is the kind of thing that if a magician could say: "Magic, Presto!" and bring it all into being in a jiffy would transform the Upper Peninsula. It is suggesting to the U. P.: "Dream a little!"

We think that there is a basic flaw in the planning and that Christie may be impressed by it when he finishes his grand tour of the U. P. and that he may have some helpful things to say to us about implementing the grand plan for development of tourism north of Mackinac.

The flaw in the plan is that it was made by planners, by learned men who are specialists in recreational enterprises. They studied the already over-studied Upper Peninsula and toted up its natural resources and its deficiencies and prescribed for needs. These needs were rather well known in the Upper Peninsula and they persisted because no one could see his way clear to making a buck supplying them.

The alternative would be for government to set up some recreational establishments as demonstration projects and this isn't very realistic because Upper Peninsula local government is having a heck of a time meeting its normal operating costs without becoming expansive in the recreation business.

Our industries do not regard recreation business as their proper field; they're not knowledgeable about it and while they're friendly toward it and will open their woodlands and other facilities to its usage, they have no intention of getting into it as investors at this time.

People assigned a task of development acquire a zeal that is not always to be found in a business community. The two views must be joined if there's to be action but the Upper Peninsula has made almost a habit of helping people make studies and then waving goodbye to them and forgetting the whole thing.

There may be some feeling that if the Upper Peninsula would only implement all the plans that the planners make for it that we'd be on Easy Street. We think it more proper to suggest that if the planning were related to economic realities and did not lean so heavily on the Upper Peninsula's emulating Hawaii, Florida, the Great Smokey Mountains or Disneyland that there would be more implementation.

It occurs to us that the tourist business finds a natural economic level if not strongly assisted, and that other areas have benefitted from natural traffic flows of pleasure seekers which have encouraged them to build more facilities and to publicize their attractions more. We have been asked to build and ballyhoo in the hope of attracting more visitors and our means of doing it are modest.

A planner who would bring one investor to the U. P. would be spectacularly successful. We're familiar, of course, with the intention to serve this purpose with the recreational studies, but we doubt its effectiveness.

The best recreational development work in the U. P. has been done on Mackinac Island and at Mackinaw City by the Mackinac Island Park Commission, which has used its bonding powers to tap a big visitor market to finance restorations; and by the Conservation Department and the Forest Service.

In the first instance the Peninsula's largest tourist traffic has helped pay for recreational development and in the others the resources of the state and federal governments have been used to create recreational facilities.

There have been some municipal efforts like Menominee's Memorial Marine and Hancock's Quincy Hoist project, but our grandiose U. P. planning is not yet realistically related to implementation, nor, apparently to our means or our intentions.

How To Reduce That Waistline

So you're not the dieting type? But you'd still like to do something about that waistline? There is an answer for you, if you happen to be a mature male in good all-around physical shape.

The answer isn't drugs, hypnosis, pushups, or mystical rites. The key lies in outdoor exercise—but exercise of a special kind, medically supervised and tailored to fit.

Dr. W. E. Harris, a Eugene, Oregon, heart specialist, worked out the program with the needs of the sedentary older man in mind; but a wide age range is included among the more than 250 men who have tried it with considerable success. They reduced their waistlines by an average of one-and-a-half inches, and about two thirds of them managed to drop 7.8 pounds apiece, on the average, during the 12-week effort. Many also lowered their blood pressures.

The program? It calls for alternate walking and jogging (slow running) a mile or more a day three times a week. The two different forms of locomotion made it easy, Dr. Harris explained, to fit the amount of energy output to the needs of the individual according to his age and general condition. Each participant underwent a heart and lung examination and various other physical tests before and after the course of exercise.

Men as old as 65 can gradually be trained to jog at a fairly good pace, three or four

Caution Will Hold

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — New studies by Defense Department technical advisers stress that Mao Tse-tung's Communist China today is not likely to send its armies into South Vietnam.

The authors of these studies hold that Mao's caution against invasion will hold, however badly the war goes for North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh and however much the United States bombs the north.

The studies show that Mao lost a million men in Korea. The analysis holds Mao could not afford that number of deaths today.

After the Korean experience, Mao turned back from his drive toward conventional armies and refurbished the thesis of "victory through guerrilla war."

In Korea, these studies show, Mao and his aides learned their guerrilla war—however adept in guerrilla war—were no match for modern military forces armed with advanced weapons.

In a showdown in this argument that came a few years after Korea, Peng Teh-huai was ousted as Red China's defense minister.

Peng and his supporters had argued for professional armies and heavy weapons. Mao, and a majority of Peking's policy makers, opted for emphasizing guerrilla war and sucking "enemy" forces deep into the mainland where they could, in theory, be worn down, divided and cut up by tough, trained guerrilla forces.

This theory prevails today in Communist China despite the push for nuclear weapons.

In analyzing the proper strategy, Red China's Defense Minister Lin Biao argues against meeting U. S. forces in conventional battles. He refers as a model, to the success of the Red guerrillas against Japan's armies. In advocating how Red China's armies should prepare for battle today, he does not advocate the Korean strategy.

As a result, Red China's armies are not organized, armed or logistically equipped to meet large well-armed modern U. S.-type conventional forces in the field in sustained conventional battles 200 or more miles beyond the Red China border.

South Vietnam is by land route more than 350 miles beyond the Communist China southern boundary.

Large conventional Red Chinese armies fighting in narrow Vietnam at these distances from Red China would be sitting ducks for American air, land and sea weapons. The slaughter would be great. In such limited areas away from home large numbers of Red Chinese could not operate except as conventional armies.

Mao and his principal aides know these things. Mao also has by now acquired considerable evidence the United States is not planning to invade or even bomb the Chinese mainland so long as Communist China doesn't come into the war massively.

The belief here also is that Mao now knows he will be bombed if he does intervene. Bombing could not destroy China. But it could destroy his major industry, and his nuclear plants. This would strengthen internal dissatisfactions and give his major opponents a rallying cry.

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

The summer season's activities for women of the Escanaba Golf Club opened with a victory tea at the clubhouse for all members and their guests. Mrs. J. E. Byrns was chairman of the event and was assisted by Miss Delight Mashek, Mrs. Gideon S. Stegath and Mrs. Michael Jensen.

40 Years Ago

"Four on a Heath," the annual Orange and Black play, was presented in assembly at Escanaba High School. The lead roles were taken by Norman White, Howard A. Johnson, Bill Cary and George Beauchamp.

50 Years Ago

Members of the Women's Relief Corps held a tag day here in which a considerable amount of money was raised. Contributors toward the Memorial Day fund were given a small pasteboard tag with red, white and blue ribbons. The money raised was to go toward decorating the graves of war veterans.

Henry J. Lemcke, state president of the Eagles fraternal organization, addressed a large-sized audience composed of members of the Eagles Club and the general public. Lemcke spoke of the work of the lodge in general.

Gen. Washington said that the book that helped win the Revolutionary War was Thomas Paine's "The Crisis."

Letters To Ann Landers

The Press You Make The Move Son, Show The Way

Contributions are welcome. They cannot be over 300 words and must be signed with name, address and phone number of writer, and names will be used. The right to condense letters is reserved.

Dear Ann Landers:

As I write this letter you are well on your way to the great world beyond, which you really deserve for the services rendered to this nation and its citizens.

The services I talk about are as follows, Rick: You were, and in my opinion still are, a member of the greatest fighting force in the world; the Armed Forces of the United States. As a member it was and is your duty to offer resistance to any nation which is an aggressor against "life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness" as is stated in our own Constitution.

You, Rick, have fulfilled this duty completely; regrettably, to a large number of people, this duty cost you the greatest price that could be asked of you. It cost you your life.

Also Rick, you are the first G. I. from Escanaba to die in the war in Vietnam. I would like you to know that your death has not gone unnoticed among the citizens of this community. I just hope that we don't lose any more of our young men to this adversary.

I also hope that this letter of thanks and remembrance helps, in however small a way, to start our payments on the great debt that is owed you and all the G. I.'s like you, by the people of this community and of this nation.

No, Rick Johnson, you are not forgotten, nor will you ever be. You hold a place of great honor in my heart and I'm sure in all the hearts of the people in Escanaba.

You deserve all the gifts and benefits of the great world beyond, "For Services Rendered."

Rape Victim Has First Abortion Under New Law

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The first reported abortion under Colorado's recently enacted law was performed this week at the Presbyterian Medical Center, a hospital spokesman said today.

The operation involved a married woman in her 30s after Dist. Atty. Floyd Marks of Adams County, just north of Denver, said she was the victim of a rape.

Marks said the woman told officers she left work at mid-afternoon and got into her automobile hidden in the back seat, grabbed her from behind. The rape followed, she said.

Meanwhile, a board of doctors at Denver General Hospital decided to grant an abortion to a 12-year-old Denver girl who also was pregnant as the result of a rape.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 20-year-old college student (male) who lives at home, has a good car, all the clothes I want and a great stereo. There is no shortage of money around here. I maintain a B average, have plenty of friends and am an Officer Candidate in the Naval Reserve.

My life is in pretty good shape all the way around. The only person I have real trouble with is my father. Whenever we have a disagreement, which is often, he calls me names, refuses to listen to my side and ends up ordering me around like a servant. I'm a person who hates to be bossed.

If he'd ask I wouldn't mind so much, but his "Lord and Master" attitude gets my goat and I find myself hating him.

I realize there is no love in our family except the love for money. I can't do anything about that, but maybe I can do something to improve my relationship with my father. What do you suggest?—WILLING BUT UNABLE

Dear Willing: First, accept the fact that your father is as unhappy about this poor relationship as you—maybe more so. He wishes it were better but the poor guy doesn't know what to do about it.

Some changes need to be made and you are the one who will have to make them. Stay off subjects and out of situations which create conflicts. You know better than anyone what they are. If he asks you to do something, do it without argument. Watch your language when you speak to him. Be respectful and considerate, even if he is not. The greater the contrast between your good manners and his hostile behavior, the sooner he will come to realize that you are a mature young man who can no longer be dealt with like a little kid.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the father of three pre-teen daughters and I read your column every day. Frankly, I am worried to death about the permissive So-What-Why-Not attitude toward sex among today's teen-agers.

Recently a 16-year-old girl wrote in to ask you why she shouldn't sleep with her boy friend. She said he was becoming increasingly insistent and she was afraid if she did not give in soon he would drop her in favor of someone who was more cooperative.

Have we parents failed so miserably in our attempts to instill decent values in our daughters that they would prostitute themselves in order to hang onto a boy friend who isn't worth a hill of beans in the first place?

Surely ALL teen-agers don't feel this way. I would like to see some letters in your column from girls who consider themselves real people rather than playthings and sex objects. Do such teen-agers actually exist? — FATHER OF GIRLS

Dear Father: Of course such girls exist. I have visited with them in our high schools and talked with them in private sessions. They are alert and sharp-eyed and nobody is going to sell them a cheap package of kicks.

I extend to these girls an invitation to write and tell me why they are holding out instead of putting out. I'll print the best one.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Presbyterians New Chief Is Country Pastor

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A Tennessee mountain pastor, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Smathers, 59, took over today as the chief presiding officer of the United Presbyterian Church, summoning it to take its stand "at the side of the poor."

That's where he has lived and served since boyhood.

"The church has got to stick by a situation," he told a news conference. "I can't lick problems anywhere by quick, fly-by-night means. The church has to be there, with people."

A tall, lean man, with a soft drawl and a homespun wit, he was chosen moderator of his 33-million-member denomination Thursday in an upset election over the Rev. Dr. William H. Hudnut Jr., of New York, head of the church's $50-million capital fund drive.

For 35 years, Dr. Smathers has been pastor of a small, rural church, Calvary Presbyterian at Big Lick, near Crossville, Tenn., in a hill region of poverty which he has helped to ease with numerous health and agricultural projects.

"The church has to relate the Gospel to the real problems people face," he said, observing that his back-country congregation started doing that long before "we learned the words for it" or before it became a fashionable theme in city church circles.

But his congregation has remained only about 75 for some years — because of outward migration.

Asked about his approach to evangelism, he allowed, "My approach hasn't worked too well." He added: "You win people by loving them. My concept of evangelism is you've got to be with people, and show the love of God through our love for them, whether they come into the church or not."

His election came on the opening day of the denomination's week-long General Assembly, its top governing body, drawing about 2,000 delegates.

Calling himself an "unknown pastor" among the Appalachian hill folk, he ascribed his election to the church's "recognition of those who serve in the difficult places of the world" and among "the forgotten ones."

The son of a tenant farmer in Bath County, Ky., Dr. Smathers worked his way through Transylvania College and Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, spending summers as a student pastor in the Ozarks and in Harlan County, Ky., in periods of intense poverty.

Ever since he began his ordained ministry, he has been at Big Lick, where he led local people in building its first church, setting up a health clinic program, farm cooperative,

UNUSUAL SETUP: Family room at right and kitchen at left are two steps down from the rest of the house, with the ceiling arrangement similar to that on the inside of an A-frame structure.

Housewife Likes This Plan

PLEASANT RANCH: There is nothing startling or spectacular about the exterior design of this three-bedroom ranch, but it has a warm, gentle look, enhanced by the matching gables over the bedroom windows and garage, and the window boxes and planter.

FLOOR PLANS: Informal living is stressed here, with the family room, dining room, and kitchen two steps down from the rest of the house and tied in with plank outdoor deck at the rear and a slate-floored porch at the side of the dining room.

By ANDY LANG

An interesting kitchen-family room-dining arrangement highlights this comfortable, livable ranch. This area is two steps down from the center hall and the living room and is in a world of its own — a world of housekeeping, informality and spacious living at the rear of the house.

Especially striking is the peaked ceiling, with beams showing, and a long window wall at the back. Additional glamour is added by the greenhouse at the side of the kitchen ized features of a wide vanitory at the front, and tub and toilet facilities behind a pocket door.

Including the two-car garage, but not the rear deck, the house measures 71' 1" by 41' 8", with a livable area of 1600 square feet. Stone and vertical board is used for the exterior — wide-boarded at the living side and V-jointed at the garage side. The gables over the bedroom windows echo the gabled garage look and suggest the rear gable effect formed by the A-frame kitchen. It's a well-integrated traditional home, with modern overtones and that effective room arrangement at the rear.

Plans call for a full basement, with a railed stairway just off the kitchen. But a family wishing to build this house on a concrete slab could use a number of alternate ideas to provide additional space on the ground floor. One possibility, for example, would be to shorten the greenhouse at the far end to provide space for a door leading to a laundry-utility room behind the dining room. This extra room could then have access to the outside without adding to the over-all dimensions of the house.

Rhodesia Gives War Aid Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The breakaway Rhodesian government has offered general assistance, but not necessarily troops, to help the United States in Vietnam, the national director of Friends of Rhodesia said.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., told a dinner meeting sponsored by the organization Wednesday night that "Rhodesia is willing to make available, immediately, up to 5,000 troops."

Thurmond called the offer an attempt by Rhodesia's Prime Minister Ian Smith to restore relations with the United States. He said he received the offer in a telegram from the Rhodesian Cabinet, and that a similar telegram had been sent to the U.S. government.

A different version was told at a news conference today by James R. Smeed, a Los Angeles businessman and national director of Friends of Rhodesia. He described that as an organization with 120 chapters and 90,000 members in the United States.

Smeed said a Mr. Williams, whom he identified as the secretary of the Rhodesian Cabinet, "reiterated the Rhodesian offer of assistance" in a telegram to the American-Southern Africa Council, a related organization. He said it was based on a resolution passed Tuesday by the Rhodesian government.

Walleye Spawn Hatches; Lakes Are Planted

By LES WALSTROM
The walleye spawn at the Manistique Lake hatchery at Curtis hatched after 21 days of round the clock 6-hour shifts. The 4-5 million eggs have been evenly divided between Manistique and South Manistique lakes. A school of coho salmon moved in to Grand Marais harbor Saturday and so far a good number have been taken with spoons. Fishing is being done trolling back and forth through the piers and from the piers by casting.

Plan Tour For Pleasant Ridge Mayor Monday

The annual mayor exchange for Michigan Week is scheduled Monday with Mayor Ted Barr coming here and Mayor Thor Reque going to Pleasant Ridge, Mich. Mrs. Barr and Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Wright of the Detroit suburb will be here with that community's mayor. Mrs. Wright is active in civic affairs through the Recreation Commission and the Pleasant Ridge Foundation. Mrs. Reque will accompany Manistique's mayor to Pleasant Ridge. Planned are a tour of the city, a noon luncheon as part of student government day at the Surf, and an evening dinner at Arrowhead Inn. The regular Council meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Events of the day also will have a session in the morning at the courthouse for student government day participants and a county board meeting at 3 p.m. Michigan Week opens Sunday with spiritual foundations observances. Various activities are scheduled to highlight each day of the week.

Wakefield ended Ironwood's four year reign as track champion of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference this week, topping the field of seven schools with 77½ points. Ironwood was runnerup with 51 1/6. Four new conference records were established with Sheldon Jakkola of Wakefield going 12 feet in the pole vault, Mark Prodesen of Superior Central soaring 6 feet 2½ inches in the high jump, the Ironwood mile relay team with a 3:46.5 clocking and the Wakefield 880 yard relay team with a 1:36.3 time. Ray Sibley gave Wakefield a pair of firsts in the dashes, winning the 100 in 10.5 and the 220 in 23.9.

Paul Meunier, former Escanaba High School athlete, has appeared behind the plate in 14 games for the Central Michigan University baseball team this spring. The Chippewas have an impressive 23-5 record. Leo Durocher of Houghton is one of the leading batters on the team with a .337 average.

The new Walton Blech Field record of 12 feet in the pole vault, set by Holy Name's Bob Brisco in a dual meet last week, was tied this week by Rocky Slawinski of Marinette Central in a triangular meet involving Menominee, Stephenson and Central. The Marinette team piled up 74½ points to 44½ for Menominee and 29 for Stephenson.

Rav Berry, Baltimore's superb pass catcher in the National Football League, will be the featured instructor at a football clinic at Ferris State College in Big Rapids June 3. Berry is well qualified for the job. In 12 seasons the Colt flanker has gained 9,108 yards as a receiver.

Paul Sharkey of Menominee, a senior at Marinette Central, has been named most valuable member of the Cavalier track squad. Sharkey holds the school record in both dashes, with a 10.2 time in the 100 and 23.3 in the 220. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Menard of Gladstone.

The Menominee Chiefs baseball team tuned up for this weekend's Wisconsin League opener by nipping Stephenson, 2-1, in an exhibition tilt. Dave Gokev fired a three hitter and fanned 11 batsmen for the mound victory. Roger Wood, Jerry Sundquist and Wayne Kramer shared a four hitter on the Stephenson rubber, but three of the safeties came in the first inning when the Chiefs scored their two runs.

Central League track and field officials discovered an error in their record book today which wiped out what was announced as a new standard in the pole vault after the 16th meet held this week at the Escanaba field. Jim Lehtomaki of Eben was credited with a new record after vaulting 11 feet 4½ inches. The old record was listed at 11-2½ by Phil Hartman of Cooks in 1966. A recheck revealed that Hartman's actual height was 11-5½.

Waubung Baseball League Reorganizes, Four Teams To Compete This Summer

The Waubung Baseball League, oldest of all Upper Peninsula youth baseball organizations, will be activated after a year's layoff with four teams competing this summer.

The league was reorganized at a meeting in Escanaba Thursday night. Attending were representatives from Escanaba, Manistique, Powers and Schaffer.

Legion Age League
Extending an invitation to any interested persons in Gladstone or surrounding communities to join the league, the four team representatives laid plans to play a schedule of nine games this summer.

Speedway Trials Close Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Ten-mile time trials to determine 33 starters in the 51st 500-mile Memorial Day auto race will be completed Saturday and Sunday, with Roger McCluskey virtually conceded fast time for the weekend.

The Tucson, Ariz., veteran, king of the half-mile highbanked tracks, threw a rod last weekend when 25 other drivers put cars into the lineup at least temporarily. His Eagle-Ford had been running among the half-dozen fastest in practice.

McCluskey had been over 166 this week with another engine and nobody else has been in that category.

Almost nonexistent possibilities of any new qualifying records probably will hold this weekend's crowds well below last Saturday's estimated attendance of more than 200,000. Sunday's program was rained out.

Mario Andretti, who won the pole position on the opening day of trials, had been unchallenged in the 168-plus category. He had a best lap of 169.779 and a 10-mile average of 168.982 in his Hawk Ford. He has been practicing this week with a full fuel load at more than 163.

The race record is 150.686, set two years ago by Jimmy Clark of Scotland. Clark qualified on opening day at 163.213, only 16th best in the tentative partial field. Jacky Stewart, another Scot who led part of last year's race, was in the danger zone at 162.221.

After the 33 spots are filled, a car can be "bumped" by a faster qualifying speed. Speedway habits predicted that when the trials end there will be no starter slower than 162.5.

Spartans Seek Third Straight

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Michigan State, which specializes in brawn and speed both on the gridiron and on the track, launches a formidable bid for a third straight title in the 67th Big Ten outdoor track and field meet today.

The MSU Spartans, who also have missed out two successive perfect championship football seasons, were favored to become only the third Big Ten school in history to sweep three straight outdoor track crowns.

Today's competition on the new $50,000 all-weather running saucer at the University of Iowa included prelims in eight events and finals in just about the only two events lacking Michigan State scoring talent—the discus and long jump.

On Saturday, the field of nearly 250 athletes will bear down on the closing 16-event program, including four events added for Olympic conditioning.

The Waubung League was first organized in 1947 and operated continuously until last year when it disbanded because there were only two teams remaining in the area.

The league is designed for boys up to 19 years of age and is based on American Legion baseball rules and regulations. Most of the teams compete in the annual legion tournaments late in the summer.

A final league meeting will be held Thursday, June 1, at 7:30 p. m. at the Escanaba Daily Press to kick off the season. June 11 was set as the tentative date for the first games.

Team representatives at the meeting were emphatic in their efforts to reactivate the baseball programs for youngsters in their communities.

Schaffer Back In

"We want our boys to have an opportunity to play in an organized league, with regularly scheduled games," a spokesman stated. "We were able to get in a few exhibition games last summer but it was on a hit-and-miss basis and the program was far from successful."

Schaffer is rejoining the league after an absence of several years. The Schaffer-Peroville-Bark River area operates a highly successful baseball program for young boys of Little League and Babe Ruth League age and officials are confident that there are enough interested graduates to field a Waubung team.

Powers, a long time member of the league, expects to be represented by players from an area extending into Hermansville and Carney, as in past years.

Players Are Called
Escanaba has dominated the Waubung League for years and the Cubs are expected to field another strong team this summer.

Openers Set For Softball Sunday Night

The opening night schedule for the 1967 Escanaba Softball Association season was announced today by Clarence Komas, president of the organization.

Two games will be played Sunday night at the Memorial Field diamond.

Meeting in the opener at 6:30 will be Northtown Raiders against Flat Rock, a Junior league game. Clashing in the nightcap under the lights at 8 will be the Escanaba Merchants against Flat Rock.

Babe Ruth

Registration of 13, 14 and 15 year old boys for Babe Ruth baseball will continue at Club 314 Saturday from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Candidates are reminded that hospital birth certificates can not be accepted because of national rules. City, county or state birth records must be presented at time of registration.

Tigers Are Set For Invasion By New York Yanks

DETROIT (AP)—The New York Yankees are coming to town and droves of Detroit baseball fans are expected to turn out to see the Tigers—hopefully—give the Yankees their lumps.

Advance ticket sales have been heavy and with warm weather, Tigers officials are predicting up to 100,000 for the four-game weekend series.

For the Tigers, booming along with an 18-10 record in second place, it appears a question of whether the hitting or the pitching will be on a hot streak.

Denny McLain, 3-4 with a fat 6.00 earned run average, will face Mel Stottlemyre in tonight's game.

With Al Kaline, Willie Horton and Jim Northrup all clouting the ball at a hot pace, things look good for the Tigers.

Kaline has been leading or near the top of the league all spring in batting. He's hitting .362 with eight home runs and 25 RBI.

Horton, getting back into the swing of things after missing several weeks with an injured leg, is .341 with five homers.

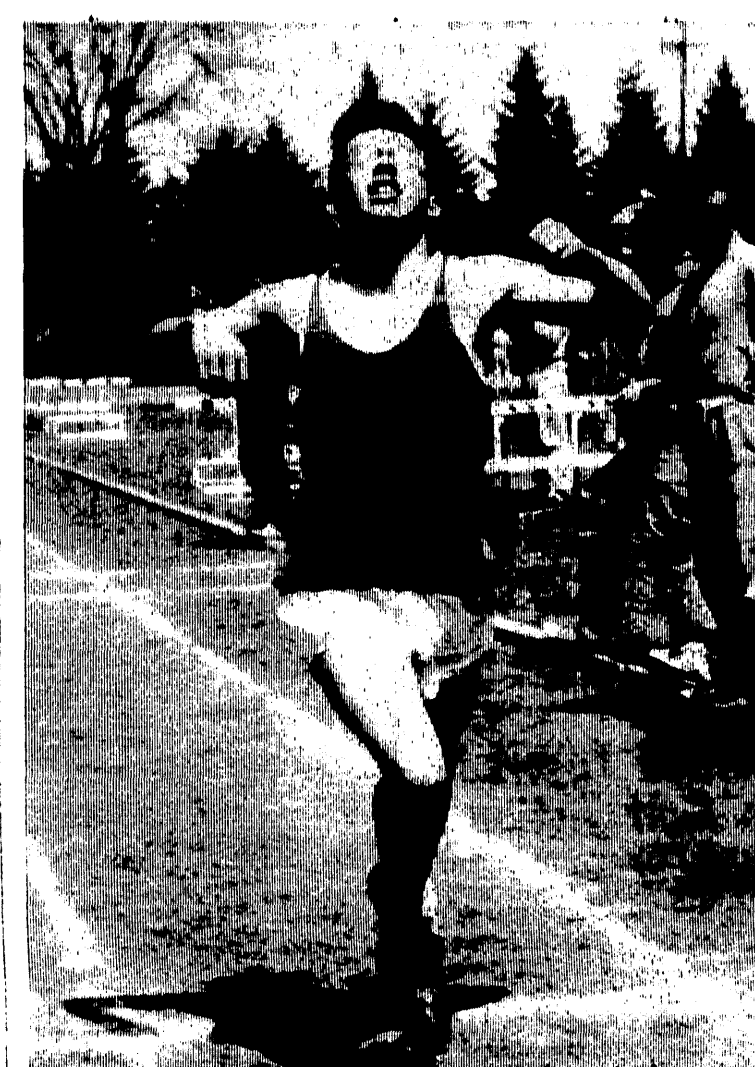

Northrup connected for a grand slam homer against Washington Wednesday and he's boosted his average to .297 with 16 RBI.

Managers and coaches of the four teams issued calls for candidates to attend early workouts. At Escanaba, Al Erickson will meet with players Monday, May 22, at the Al Ness Field. The session will start at 6.

The Manistique team will be under the direction of a new manager in Oliver Rehn this season. All boys interested in joining the team are to contact him or Cliff Lambert or Jack King who will be assisting in directing the program.

Bob Smith will again manage the Powers area ball club and players interested in trying out for the team are asked to contact him as soon as possible.

Representing Schaffer at the meeting was Fred Piriot. He and other officers of the area program will be in charge of organizing the team.

Huskies Tangle In Squad Battle

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech's football team holds its final session of spring drills tonight when the team plays its annual intrasquad game.

This year's contest is to be held at Nelson Field in Stambaugh at 8:30 p.m.

Lucier has split his varsity roster down the middle into

"Black" and "White" teams. Most of his top defensive players dot the Black roster with the White team boasting a strong offensive flavor.

Due to the lack of practice time, only 15 sessions in all, Lucier has decided to eliminate kickoffs and punts. In place of the kickoff each team will put the ball in play at its own 35-yard line. Instead of punting the ball will be moved 30 yards up the field.

"We have had an excellent spring practice," Lucier said today. "The players have worked hard and we found answers to several questions along the way. However, the biggest problems facing us now are those of experience and depth."

"We will be looking for a lot of important factors in Friday's game. First, we want to find out who wants to hit and play football. Second, we want to know who the players are that play heads up football and put into practice the things we have worked on all spring. I don't feel we, the coaching staff, will be disappointed."

"There is not much glory in spring football but our players are looking forward to Friday's game almost as much as a regular season game. They (the players) have a great deal of pride."

Willie's back and hitting, the weather's warm, and Kaline is off to a great start, which leaves it up to the pitching.

McLain, 20-14 last year, has had trouble this spring. But he's kept insisting he's all right and will get in stride shortly.

Mickey Lolich, Earl Wilson and Joe Sparrma will follow in the series. Wilson is 4-3, Lolich 4-2 and Sparrma 4-0.

Lolich is off to a good start, but Sparrma has shown the most startling reversal of form. Last year the handsome Ohio State alumnus posted a 2-9 record.

Northern Grid Drills Close Next Saturday With Intrasquad Tilt

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan's Wildcats, at a three-quarter mark in spring practice, will stage their second game — condition scrimmage Saturday evening at 7:30 at Memorial Field.

Head coach Rollie Dotsch said he will give his gridders a day off Friday, then will send the Wildcats through a heavy offense vs defense scrimmage under the lights Saturday.

"Our Green-White game May 27 will be a night contest," said Dotsch, "so this will give the boys a chance to scrimmage under the lights before the intrasquad game."

Last Saturday, in the first game-conditions scrimmage, the offense edged the defense 16½ to 14 under a scoring system that gives credit for first downs by the offense, in addition to touchdowns, PATs and field goals, and gives points to the defense for blocked punts, intercepted passes, fumbles and stopping the offense on downs.

Dotsch was not pleased with the over-all performance of the Wildcats last Saturday, noting that the workout lacked "quantity and quality of hitting. Things have sharpened up this week, however, and I think this Saturday night we'll see a sharper scrimmage."

The injury jinx, which struck the Northern squad before spring drills even began, continues to plague the Wildcats.

"We've got a better 'Red Cross' right now than either our offensive or defensive units," Dotsch quipped.

BATTING — Cookie Rojas, Phillies, drove in three runs with a pair of hits helping Philadelphia to a 7-1 victory over Cincinnati. The triumph ended a five-game winning streak for the Reds and four-game losing streak for the Phillies.

PITCHING — Pete Richert, Senators, allowed hot-hitting Baltimore just three hits as Washington shut out the Orioles 2-0. Baltimore had scored 44 runs in five previous games.

New Cage Loop Fires Big Shot

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Batter lines are being drawn for a legal war between the National Basketball Association and the new American basketball Association, and indications are several star professional players likely will be involved.

The Minnesota Muskies of the ABA fired a major shot Thursday by signing former University of Minnesota star Lou Hudson to a three-year contract for an undisclosed amount of money. Estimates of what Hudson got from the Muskies ranged from $100,000 to $200,000.

Hudson was a rookie star for the St. Louis Hawks of the NBA last season.

Singer Pat Boone, owner of the Oakland franchise in the ABA, said his club hopes to sign San Francisco Warrior stars Rick Barry and Nate Thurmond.

He reiterated that the ABA "is not tampering with any player who has a bona fide contract," but said the new league is actively talking to players it feels are not legally bound to an NBA team.

..... AT THE State Bank OF ESCANABA APPLY TODAY!

Over 130 Escanaba area business and professional people will now accept your MIDWEST BANK CARD. And in the near future, hundreds of other businesses throughout the U. P. will accept your MIDWEST BANK CARD along with thousands more now participating in lower Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Your MIDWEST BANK CARD is easy to use, and so convenient. Just charge the purchases you make from any participating merchant and then receive just one bill each month, combining all your purchases into one, regardless of where or from whom you make the purchases. A copy of each sales slip is included in your billing. You may then pay your bill in full within 25 days of billing and pay no additional charge. But if you prefer, you may take advantage of the revolving charge feature and make a budget payment each month, with a modest service charge included.

If you didn't receive your MIDWEST BANK CARD in the mail, just phone or write the State Bank of Escanaba, and we'll rush an application to you.
